- You will have recently graduated from a higher education institution or have recent professional experience in an entry level job or internship.
- You will have a passion and enthusiasm for classical music, culture and the arts.
- You will have the ability to work under pressure and demonstrate consistent attention to detail when working to deadlines.
- You will have experience working with social media platforms such as Twitter (X) and Instagram.
- You are a fast learner and a team player and have the ability to prioritise a busy workload.
- You will be proficient in using the Microsoft Office suite (Word, Outlook, etc.) and have strong IT skills.
- You will be a skilled communicator and are personable.

Key responsibilities

- Providing administrative support as required including preparation of press cuttings, press packs and sharing media coverage with clients.
- Independently creating and posting content on the company website as well as on company Twitter and Instagram accounts and selected client social media channels.
- Assisting with handling incoming media enquiries and helping arrange interviews.
- Helping research and write press releases, and other publicity materials, as necessary.
- Handling press list management and liaising with journalists regarding press tickets.
- Maintenance of client and journalist digital database, including CRM system.
- Representing the company through attendance at concerts and events (occasional evening and weekend work will be required).

Contract

Permanent following a three-month trial period.

Holiday

25 days plus bank holidays (subject to negotiation and depending on experience).

Salary

Between £25,000 – £27,000 per annum (depending on experience and regularly reviewed).
